

Ab Ovo is expanding in the Nordic markets and is therefore looking for skilled people who wants to contribute in building our company further. We are now seeking:

Senior Business Consultant

Location: Copenhagen, Denmark

Industry expert freight-forwarding & transport or maritime - Value creation via Optimization

Your role

You will be responsible for building and maintaining a professional network within the industry, where you will be Senior Business Consultant. Via your network you will improve the business performance of our clients and expand the market presence of Ab Ovo.

Ab Ovo's strength lies in Supply Chain optimization. As Senior Business Consultant, you will address the industry as well as information-technology developments, especially the growth of available data via internet (Internet of Things and Big Data) thereby improving the business performance of our clients. Consequently, you will be helping decision makers in the industry with their digital transformation. As an experienced consultant, you must have the ability to inspire and prove to the companies the benefit of new technology or new business models in order to boost business improvement. You will play a crucial role in which you act as driving force for the client and Ab Ovo. You will also play a visible role within the industry by means of publications on social media. Your vision of the industry and your proven track record and experience will position you to contribute to our development and growth of our industry specific products.

Your talents

- University degree in Business Economics, Supply Chain, Logistics or Informatics;
- Proven track record from freight-forwarding & transport or maritime industries. Ability to share your knowledge and improve business performance within the sector;
- Persuasive, entrepreneurial, inspiring and cooperative. Ability to present a vision and win support for it;
- A keen eye for commerce. Comfortable in operating at management and executive level;
- Internationally oriented. Verbal and written command of English and Scandinavian languages. Enjoy travelling on business trips within Europe and globally.

Today, you have probably been working with Supply Chain for more than 4-6 years and delivered multiple transformation projects with valuable benefit to your company and now would like working as an external consultant or you have been working as a Business Consultant for a number of years and enjoy the consulting role. Now you're ready to take the next step and handle larger companies and projects.

We offer

- Great satisfaction helping clients with their Supply Chain challenges in large scale projects;
- Chances for personal development as part of a successful and fast-growing company. Ample opportunity to set a personalized course in the company;
- Content is key in our business. Hence we very much value your personal and professional development. We facilitate this in many ways, including training days and the possibility to study and obtain certificates;
- Lots of opportunity to learn in an open culture with experienced colleagues and a strong embedding of knowledge development in practice groups;
- The professional aspect of working with large ambitious clients, combined with the security of a close-knit operational base. The best of both worlds, large and small. We are proud of our loyal culture, in which we know and respect each other. We cherish positive interaction, which translates into social outings, a company weekend and other social activities besides work;
- People at Ab Ovo cherish freedom and take responsibility. We believe in your strength and judgment. We are not confined by blueprints. There is room to organize the work in a way that suits you best;
- Ab Ovo is a healthy company. We offer a competitive salary and an excellent overall package of employee benefits and we are keen to invest in a long-term, stable partnership with our workforce.
